

The church picnic last Sunday was a real blast! I think the photos below show just how much of a “gas” it was. The “sextet” group that sang called themselves “The Splatters.” The “object of their affection” was Anita McKinney.

